

Parliamentary rules of openness are approved by U of T Senate

With some amendments to the original wording, the Senate approved a recommendation by the Executive Committee that meetings of the Senate of the University be open to the public in the same way as meetings of Parliament. This is construed to mean:

(a) Any interested person may attend subject only to the physical limitations of the location chosen for the meeting. It is suggested that tickets might be issued for the available places.

(b) Only members of the Senate will be permitted to speak in debate and to vote.

The Senate also reserved the right to go into closed session by a simple majority vote of members present.

The Senate approved a further recommendation by the Executive Committee that members of the public be seated in a different part of the meeting place from members of the Senate to make it possible for the presiding officer to distinguish members from non-members.

The Senate discussed possible locations for open Senate meetings and expressed a strong preference for continuing to hold meetings in the traditional location, the Senate Chamber, if it was possible to do this in compliance with fire regulations. The Senate concluded this discussion by passing the following motion:

"that the Executive Committee should, to the best of their ability, make arrangements for the next meeting of the Senate to be open."

Distinguished poet Robert Lowell will be on campus Jan 21 to 24

Robert Lowell, the noted American poet and playwright, winner of the Pulitzer Prize and other literary awards, will give a reading of his works in Convocation Hall at 8.30 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 23.

This event, free to all interested, is the major public appearance of Mr. Lowell, whose visit to University of Toronto from Jan. 21 to 24 has been made possible by the Associates of the University of Toronto, Inc., New York.

Jack Ludwig, Writer-in-Residence, is arranging for Mr. Lowell to speak to students, especially in the English and drama departments, and to meet with them informally. Mr. Lowell will stay in Massey College while on campus.

Robert Lowell, a graduate of Kenyon College in Ohio and Harvard University, was Guggenheim Fellow and Consultant in Poetry to the Library of Congress. He won the Pulitzer Prize and the American Academy of Arts and Letters Prize in 1947, and the National Book Award in 1959.

Mr. Lowell's published works include For the Union Dead, Imitations, Life Studies, Lord Weary's Castle, Mills of the Kavanaughs, Near the Ocean, Old Glory, and Voyage and Other Versions of Poems by Baudelaire.

In addition to his creative writing, Mr. Lowell is widely known for his translations of literary works originally published in French and Russian.

Clark Kerr
will lecture
Feb 5 and 6

Dr. Kerr

A two-part public address on "Higher Education in the United States and its Discontents", on Feb. 5 and 6, and participation in a Centre for Industrial Relations seminar on Feb. 4 are highlights of the visit to University of Toronto of Dr. Clark Kerr as Visiting Lecturer in American Studies.

The public address will be given at 8 p.m. in the Royal Ontario Museum Theatre on the evenings of the 5th and 6th. President Claude Bissell will be chairman of the first evening and John H. Sword, Vice-President (Academic) and Provost will preside at the second.

Soon after his arrival in Toronto on Tuesday, Feb. 4, the former president of the University of California and present chairman and executive director of the Carnegie Commission on the Future of Higher Education will take part in a seminar on "Industrial Relations and University Relations". This session, arranged by the Centre for Industrial Relations, will be held at 3.30 p.m., Feb. 4, in the Senate Chamber, Simcoe Hall.

On Wednesday, the 5th, Dr. Kerr will meet informally with students, staff and board members of the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at 10 a.m. At 2.30 p.m., Vice-Provost Donald F. Foster will preside at a student seminar.

On Thursday, the 6th, after a meeting with Dr. John D. Hamilton, Vice-President, Health Sciences, Dr. Kerr in the afternoon will speak to the sociology class of Prof. L. S. Feuer, one of his former colleagues at Berkeley.

On Friday, the 7th, at 10 a.m., Dr. Kerr will speak to the Commission on University Government in the Senate Chamber, Simcoe Hall. It has not been possible to arrange for him to meet with the Presidential Committee on Disciplinary Procedures as had been hoped. After a visit to York University with Prof. Jill Conway of the Department of History, Dr. Kerr will leave Toronto that evening.

Two luncheons and two dinners are planned in honour of the distinguished visitor. Prof. John H. G. Crispo and his Centre for Industrial Relations and Prof. Richard Judy, Institute for the Quantitative Analysis of Social and Economic Policy, will be hosts at luncheon and dinner respectively. Dr. Bissell is giving a dinner for Dr. Kerr and is host at President's Luncheon.

The visit of Clark Kerr has been made possible by the Associates of the University of Toronto, Inc., New York.
